Small Web Management Business Growing Despite Troubling Economy

BLOOMINGTON, MN — February 1, 2011 — What small business isn't looking to control overall cost? Even during this troubling economy Savvyon, Inc. has seen an increase in revenue with their Web Management services.

Different and Better

What makes Savvyon, Inc. Web Management services so different is that small businesses do not need to dig deep into their pocket books for a customized and professional looking website. Many customers have already benefited from our services. As WillGoPress.com stated "Savvyon, Inc. made the process feel like collaboration to get the form and the function we needed. Within a month, we had the new site up and running. The other thing that attracted me to Savvyon, Inc. was the reasonable cost of hosting and keeping the site fresh. We have been able to add new things monthly and make continuous improvements to make our site even better."

Full-Service Web Management

Savvyon, Inc. is located in Bloomington, MN and founded in 2004. Since 2004 Savvyon, Inc. has worked with small businesses to understand what types of web services they would find useful. Over the last 6 years, management has been testing different business models that fit the customer needs and yet maintains Savvyon, Inc. operations. With the help of our clients and other small businesses, Savvyon, Inc. is now able to offer the same high-end web development services that larger companies receive, but at a much lower cost.
